

Bartimaeus Unique Arctic Educator (Youth Care) Opportunities

December 8, 2019

Bartimaeus is a private practice-based organization that provides contracts in a variety of settings. Bartimaeus Associates work with children, adolescents, and adults with moderate to severe behaviour challenges. For the past 19 years we have had the privilege of working in Nunavik with Inuit children and adolescents in school and social service settings.

We presently have several 4-6 week contracts available for youth care workers (educators) at the beginning of the new year in group homes and placement settings for pre-adolescent and adolescent children in care under Youth Protection.

We are presently looking for educators who are interested in occasional contracts in Nunavik. These contracts provide all transportation and all living costs, including per diem stipends for food. There is a minimum guarantee of 5 shifts per week, though most Associates work significantly more. All support services are provided in English. With no deductions taken at source, this private practice contract pays $30.00/hour.

- If you have five years or more direct experience working with challenging children or adolescents.
- If you possess a diploma in child and youth care or a related degree.
- If you have or can obtain a vulnerable sector police clearance,
- and, if you would like more information about our northern team and these unique, challenging, and rewarding opportunities, please contact Doug Brice at:
